ADMINISTRATION AND SERVICE (SELECTED):

National and International Board and Directive posts:

**Board of Directors, SHARP (Society for the History of Authorship, Reading, and Publishing). International Organization. (2013-2021; by election.) Responsible body for all operations oversight and policy, 5,000 members worldwide.

During my eight-year term, we worked through numerous expansions, conventions, personnel changes, and the publication and personnel transformations of the organization's journal, Book History. Duties included: Set and revised policy and coordinated with the Executive Committee on policy execution. Major constitution revision. Held international elections. Oversee listserv, SHARP-L, Newsletter, SHARPNews, and international publications arm, Lingua Franca. Helped develop our first international and multilingual conference programming.

Nominating Committee, SHARP (Society for the History of Authorship, Reading, and Publishing). International Organization. (2021-22; by election) Duties: Contact nominees among our 5,000 international members to stand for election and to serve; we run elections and report results to membership transparently and fairly.

**Member, MLA (Modern Language Association) CHA: Committee on Honors and Awards (supervises 27 prize committees), appointed, 2019-2021. I nominated interdisciplinary and cross-disciplinary panelists to judge 27 annual prizes for publications (books and articles) in various categories. I balanced expertise across historical, linguistic, and thematic fields while emphasizing diversity and inclusion in several vectors (gender, race, ability status, seniority, region, and type of university). Oversaw and updated policy and constitutive documents for all prizes. Personally responsible for identifying three overlapping prizes, for proposing that we reorganize the structure into two clearly delineated prizes, for rewriting prize criteria documents accordingly. This change was approved to make better use of committee and judge-selection resources.

**Member, MLA (Modern Language Association) CSE: Committee on Scholarly Editions (appointed, 2015-

2019). Policy-setting body for the profession's standards for editions; responsible for public-facing policy statements and criteria of scholarly excellence.

During my term I worked closely with committee and MLA staff to revise policy documents and working checklists so as integrate criteria for electronic editions. Helped begin a white-paper series. Coordinated with the MLA Editorial Prize committee and staff to award annual prizes for scholarly editions.

**President/Chair, MLA (Modern Language Association) *TS Forum: Forum Executive Committee, Translation Studies (by national election, 2015-2020), member 2015-2020; secretary 2017-18, president/chair 2019-20. Saw group through our ten-year review, wrote all documents and took in committee feedback, and received MLA continuation for the Forum. Enhanced our Forum communication procedures. Nominated new personnel with diversity/inclusion criteria foremost. Created new conference programming concepts. Re-imagined and oversaw CFP and selection processes for MLA Convention sessions in our Forum and in relevant Special Sessions.

**Chair, MLA (Modern Language Association) *FBP: First Book Prize Selection Committee, 2014-15; had served as appointed member 2010-13. During my term as member, I read and judged more than 100 books annually; in 2013 as Chair, organized the judges' panel and their meetings, and oversaw the process to conclusion, working closely with MLA staff. After my term, when the chair appointed for 2014-2015 quit in mid-cycle, MLA staff asked me to return to the committee to take it over, smooth the conflicts, and complete the annual process in a timely way. I then did so, re-organizing the reading and judging of ~125 books. Afterwards, advised the CHE (Committee for Honors and Awards) and MLA staff on policy changes designed to prevent future such problems.

Research Administration at Florida State University:

**CRC: Council on Research and Creativity: The CRC is the University's internal research funding body, with an annual budget of around $2.5 million. The CRC redistributes SRAD-derived funding to FSU faculty researchers in all disciplines, by way of a set of competitive internal grant programs, at minimum receiving between 250 and 300 applications per year, many from multi-disciplinary teams. <https://internalfunding.research.fsu.edu/> FSU is an R-1, Carnegie Doctoral-Intensive University of ~42,000 students, ~1,600 faculty, and a fluctuating number of PhD students and postdoctoral researchers. The CRC is the university's single internal research body to serve those constituencies. Reporting directly to the VPR (Vice President for Research), the CRC is an interdisciplinary council representing ~35 fields across the sciences, engineering, business, arts, and humanities. Typical member list is at <https://internalfunding.research.fsu.edu/members-meeting-dates/>

I held several appointed roles in the CRC over more than a decade of service, working closely with VPR office staff. This list describes the duties of each role, beginning with the oldest and lowest-level service; the more significant administration is at the end of this list.

As Member: 2009–2017; 2018-2021. Participated in the work of the CRC as a panelist and application reviewer, as well as on subcommittees and ad-hoc committees. Served on subcommittee to plan the revision of RFPs for sixteen grant programs. Monthly full-Council meetings.

As Chair, AHPEG Committee (Arts & Humanities Program Enhancement Grant, 2018-2021). Chaired this subcommittee that typically awarded a pool of $100,000 USD per annum to selected researchers in the arts and humanities for program enhancements. Oversaw panelist reviews, fielded questions from applicants, worked with IT on improving the portal, kept budget healthy across fiscal years, and oversaw notifications to non-recipients (and fielded their questions). Worked closely with VPR office staff throughout the grant cycle.

As Executive Committee Member, 2015-7; 2018-2021. This committee steers all CRC policy, programming, and execution of internal funding programs across the disciplines of the university. Monthly EC meetings, in addition to the full-Council meetings. Following on the RFP ad-hoc revision planning committee, I personally advised streamlining from 16 to 9 programs and rewrote documents according to a 2017 voted compromise for 12 programs; in 2022, just after my term, complete streamline was accomplished to 9 programs. Ran and participated in annual workshops and sessions for faculty. Worked closely with office staff on RFP revisions and submission portal coherence/consistency, as well as other policy matters.

As Member, Search Committee for Associate Vice President for Research, 2018-19. VPR and committee wrote position description in coordination with HR, recruited candidates, insured a diverse and inclusive candidate pool, and advised VPR on choice of next Assistant Vice President for Research. Our choice was the first woman researcher ever to occupy this position, and she succeeded splendidly.

As Chair, 2016-17. Chaired the CRC main council of 35 members plus 10 ex-officio upper administrators, including Deans, Legal, etc.; also chaired the Executive Committee meetings. Responsible for working closely with VP for Research, the VPR office staff, and the Executive Committee in setting agendas and coordinating the work of each group, and for meetings of the main body and the executive. Responsible for running the very full and substantive 1.5-to-2-hour meetings according to modified Roberts' Rules; for insuring smooth funding reviews and panelist actions on fellowship awards; for foreseeing and pre-solving any potential problems and unsnagging any unforeseeables. With the Exec committee, Proposed and implemented improvements to the RFPs. Proposed and implemented improved hiatus rules and post-award budget mods rules. Proposed and implemented streamlining procedures to align with national agencies' priorities (primarily NIH, DoD, and NSF, but also NEH, Mellon, and ACLS). Oversaw awards of about $2.5 million annually (AY) in internal research funding from SRAD sources, funding 12 (at that time; now streamlined to 9) main grant programs meeting various faculty needs in research. Those needs range very widely across disciplines, including equipment and lab costs, salary support, participant incentives, supplies, RA stipends, travel, subvention, and production/performance costs, and more. Worked with staff to ensure admin accuracy and compliance with university funding rules. During my time researchers were surveyed to assess their unmet research needs and CRC responded with program revisions to meet them better, proving ourselves responsive to a very broad constituency of interdisciplinary researchers.

**Inviter/Convener and Coordinator, NEH Workshops given by Research Director Dr. Russell Wyland, Visit to FSU and FAMU, 2014. Coordinated visit and made liaison with HBCU FAMU (Florida A&M University) to insure equitable and inclusive programming.

FSU College-, Program-, and Departmental-level Administrative Service
